PART-II

Some Importent Questions & Answers 140

Preface

Language practice is a wonderful book in easy language. It provides readers with numerous opportunities to practice speaking the English language. The topics discussed are very familiar situations from our day-to-day life. Readers can become fluent by reading and repeating these useful structures as many times as possible. Most educated people can write very well, but are unable to speak good English. It is because they do not have the opportunity to practice speaking the language. It is when they have to appear for job interviews or when they meet non-speakers of their own language that they fully realize their inadequacies. This book helps such readers to practice speaking English at random learning from home or from home or from anywhere. The book adopts the functional aspect of the language through an oral-aural approach.

DESCRIBING OBJECTS

Sheeza comes home late with a surprise for her husband, Irfan.

A

Irfan : Sheeza! Where have you been? It's after six o'clock.
Sheeza : Wait until I tell you, Irfan! I've been downtown and I saw just what I wanted.
Irfan : I know. A Moon dress to match the Moon shoes you bought last week.
Sheeza : No. Not a Moon dress or a red one or a yellow one. It isn't anything for me. It's for our house.
Irfan : Our house? What is it?
Sheeza : You'll never guess. It's a new sofa. A yellow one.
Irfan : We already have a sofa, Sheeza. A very good one.

Sheeza : I never liked it. It's Sajid and our other furniture is light blue. It doesn't match. The yellow one will look good with our other things.

Irfan : Very well. Tell me about it.

Sheeza : First of all, it's exactly the right size for the wall near the window. The sofa we have now is too short.

Irfan : Is it wide or narrow?

Sheeza : It's as wide as our old sofa, but it looks narrower because it's longer.

Irfan : Fine. Then I'll have a very good place to sleep after dinner.

LESSON NO. 24

TALKING ABOUT FAMILY AND RELATIVES

Meeting relatives

Jalib : I just got a letter from Aunt Tehreem. You remember her, don't you, Danish? My great-aunt. Grandma Bushra's sister.

Danish : Yes, I remember. She's the one who has been married twice. Her first husband died, didn't he?

Jalib : That's right. And she has children from each marriage. Uncle Atif, her second husband, was married before, too. He has four children from his first marriage. He and Aunt Tehreem have three.

Danish : Then they are all your cousins, aren't they?

Jalib : I call them all cousin. All of aunt Tehreem's children are my second cousins, but Uncle Atif's children from his first marriage are not relatives of mine.

Danish : What are they to each other?

Jalib : Let's see. Aunt Tehreem's sons and daughters from her first marriage are Uncle Atif's stepchildren. Aunt Tehreem is his children's stepmother. The children are stepbrothers and stepsisters.

Danish : I've never understood that. I thought they were Hamza-brothers and Hamza-sisters.

Jalib : No. Hamza-brothers and Hamza-sisters have the same mother or the same father. Aunt Tehreem's and Uncle Atif's children are Hamza-brothers and Hamza-sisters to the other children.

Danish : It's very confusing. But what does Aunt Tehreem say in her letter?

Bushra : That's a fine idea. I enjoy walking around the airport.

Tehreem : Let's go down to the pier, too. We can watch the big ships dock. Some day I want to take a trip by boat.

Bushra : I'd rather fly. It's the quickest and most comfortable way to travel.

Tehreem : But traveling by ship is leisurely and more restful.

Bushra : That may be right, but a trip by jet plane is exciting, and you have more time for sight-seeing after you arrive.

Tehreem : It's difficult to make a decision. But here we are at the airport.

Bushra : Look! There's a jet plane landing right now.

Tehreem : It's moving so fast. Do you think it's going to crash?

Bushra : No, it won't crash. Watch how carefully the pilot brings the plane down. Traveling by jet is quite safe.

Tehreem : Good. Then we'll take a jet plane instead of a boat on our trip. We can buy our tickets right here.

Bushra : What are you talking about? What trip? We're not going anyplace. We're just out for a drive, remember?

Revision of Important Sentences

LESSON NO. 34

GOING SHOPPING

Sadia : Let's go into this shoe store, Salman. I need some shoes to match my new dress.

Salman : That's a good idea. I'm so tired from shopping that I'll be glad to sit down, but I don't need any shoes.

Salesman : Good afternoon, ladies. May I help you?

Sadia : I hope so. I'm interested in seeing a pair of shoes to match my new red dress.

Salesman : Do you want high heels or low heels?

Sadia : Low heels are more comfortable, but I think I should wear high heels with that dress.

Salesman : Let me measure your foot. Fine. Here are several different styles in your size. Try these on. They're on sale today.

Sadia : They fit perfectly, but they aren't exactly what I want. I don't see any that I really like. Thanks anyway.

Salman : Just a minute. Let me try on that pair. They're very comfortable. I'll buy them.

Sadia : I thought you didn't need new shoes.

Salman : I don't. But I never can resist a sale.

Amir : Fine. Where would you like to go? Look in the newspaper to get information about the movies or the theater.

Zain : I see that a new play opened this week.

Amir : It got very bad reviews. The newspaper story said it was the worst play of the year. You don't want to go there. What else can we do?

Zain : I'd enjoy a good concert, but, according to the paper, there aren't any tonight.

Amir : Aren't there any good movies in town?

Zain : How about "Dancing in the Dark"? That should be entertaining.

Amir : We've already seen it. it's an old picture. Don't you remember?

Zain : Well, there's a good love story at the Center theater.

Amir : You know I don't like love stories. What's at the neighborhood movie theater?

Zain : "Amusing Adventure", with Azam Azams. It's a comedy.

Amir : Good. Let's go there. What time does the main feature start?

Zain : It started fifteen minutes ago. We just missed it.

Amir : Well, I guess all we can do is stay home and watch television.

Zain : I was afraid you'd say that. Now it will take me another month to get you interested in going out.

Fakhar : How much is it, Operator?

Operator : That will be two dollars for the first three minutes. Deposit the coins in the slot, please. Thank you.

Fakhar : Hello, Bushra. How are you?

Operator : Hi, Fakhar. Are you calling from Chicago?

Fakhar : Yes, but I'll be home next Saturday morning. I want to know if you can go to the baseball game with me on Sunday afternoon.

Operator : What? What did you say? I can't hear you. Hello? Hello?

Fakhar : Hello? Hello? Bushra? Operator! Operator, we've been disconnected.

Operator : One moment, please. I'll see if I can connect you again.

Fakhar : Hello? Bushra, are you there now?

Operator : Yes, Fakhar. Now, what were you saying about a baseball game?

Fakhar : I guess you didn't hear me, Bushra. We were disconnected before I finished talking. I wanted to ask you to ...

Operator : I'm sorry, sir. Your three minutes are over. You'll have to deposit more money, if you wish to talk longer.

A

Atif : Sheraz! What's the matter? You look pale. Are you sick?

Sheraz : I just had a terrible experience.
Atif : Sit down. Let me get you a glass of water.
Sheraz : No thanks, Atif. I'll be fine in a minute.
Atif : Did you have an accident?
Sheraz : Not quite, but almost. I was crossing the street just now and was almost hit by a car. Fortunately, I jumped back in time.
Atif : How awful! I hope you got the license number of the car so you can report this man to the police department.
Sheraz : Before I realized what had happened, the car was gone.
Atif : Drivers like that should have their licenses taken away from them.
Sheraz: : I agree. I won't forget this for a long time.
Atif : I'm sure you won't.
Sheraz : Yes, from now on I won't cross the street in the middle of the block reading my newspaper. I'll have to watch where I'm going, since there are Dangerous drivers like that one on the road.

LESSON NO. 42

ASKING ABOUT FURNITURE AND PLACES TO LIVE

A

Saleem : Good morning! May I help you?
Mr. Moon : Yes, you may. My wife and I are interested in renting a house for the summer.
Mrs. Moon : We want something near the beach, if you have it.

Saleem : Do you want a furnished house or an unfurnished one?

Mrs. Moon : Furnished. But we have our own sheets and towels.

Saleem : Very well. How long do you want the house? All summer?

Mr. Moon : No, not all summer. Just for six weeks.

Saleem : I'm afraid I can only rent it for two months.

Mr. Moon : My vacation is only for six weeks, but I think my brother and his family would take it for the other two weeks.

Mrs. Moon : Is the house in good condition?

Saleem : Yes, it is. It was just painted and it has all the modern conveniences, including air conditioning.

Mrs. Moon : Wonderful. Let's take it, Sunny.

Mr. Moon : Not so fast, Eva. We haven't seen it yet, and we have to idea how much it costs.

LESSON NO. 43

TALKING ABOUT THINGS TO WEAR

A

Ali : I don't know what to wear today. Is it going to be cold or warm?

Ali's Brother : It looks like it's going to rain today. You'd better take your raincoat.

Ali : I can't decide whether to wear my grey suit or the Sajid one.

Ali's Brother : Why don't you wear the grey one? It's not as heavy as the Sajid one. It may rain today, but it won't be very cold.

Ali : All right. What are you going to wear?

Ali's Brother : I think I'll wear my new jacket and dark blue trousers. And if I can borrow your blue tie, I'll wear that. I don't have a blue tie.

Ali : Of course you can have it. All of my shirts are at the laundry, so I borrowed one of yours. I was sure you wouldn't mind.

B

Aqib : What kind of dress are you looking for?

Nargis : Since it's getting warmer this time of year, I want something lightweight. What material do you think would be best?

Aqib : Let's see what there is. We can go to several stores. Personally, I like a cotton dress for spring.

Nargis : So do I. And I could wear it all summer, too. I want something I can use for a long time.

Aqib : What color would you like? Yellow or Moon would be good colors for you.

Nargis : Oh! I want a white dress.

Aqib : Are you sure? It's not a very practical color. It gets dirty so fast.

Nargis : I know. But I'm getting married on Saturday, and white is the traditional color for a wedding dress.

Revision of Important Sentences

- What are you going to wear today?
- I'm going to wear my blue suit. Is that all right?
- I have two suits to send to the cleaners.

- My brother came in, changed his clothes, and went out again.
- I didn't notice you were wearing your new hat.

LESSON NO. 44

DISCUSSING DIFFERENT POINTS OF VIEW

A

Irfan : Do you mean to tell me you don't care for modern art? Not any of it?

Amjad : That's right. I don't understand it and I don't like it.

Irfan : That's a very narrow-minded viewpoint. If you don't understand it, how can you say that you don't like it?

Amjad : Perhaps I am a little conservative. I just can't imagine that the modern artist is really serious.

Irfan : I won't argue with you, but I think you're being unfair. The modern artist has a different approach to his work than the more traditional artist.

Amjad : Are you trying to tell me that these peculiar paintings mean anything? A child could paint better than that.

Irfan : I guess there's no point in discussing the matter any further. You have your opinion and I have mine.

Amjad : I agree there are two sides to everything, but this time I see only one of them.

Irfan : Well, I'm attempting to explain that the modern artist is trying to get across his personal feelings about the world around him.

Amjad : Then he should keep his feelings to himself.

Revision of Important Sentences

- You have your point of view, and I have mine.
- You approach it in a different way than I do.
- I won't argue with you, but I think you're being unfair.
- That's a liberal point of view.

- Everyone is entitled to his own opinion.
- There are always two sides to everything.
- We have opposite views on this.

- Please forgive me. I didn't mean to start an argument.
- I must know your opinion. Do you agree with me?
- What point are you trying to make?
- Our views are not so far apart, after all.
- We should be able to resolve our differences.

LESSON NO. 45

THINKING ABOUT POSSIBLE FUTURE ACTIVITIES

Shehzad : Would you like to go to the movies with me tonight, Jalib?

Jalib : Thanks, Shehzad. I'd like to go very much, but there's a possibility I'll have to work at the library.

Shehzad : How soon will you know?

Jalib : I should know this afternoon. Why don't you call me up later?

Shehzad : All right. If you finish your work early, perhaps we can still go somewhere tonight.

Jalib : Fine. Suppose I don't get finished in time. Would you be able to go Tomorrow night?

Shehzad : Sure, I can go Tomorrow night, too.

Faiz : Will you be going home for Christmas this year, Huma?

Huma : I want to go, but I don't know if I'll have enough money by then.

Faiz : You live in Portland, Oregon, don't you?

Huma : That's right. And the plane fare is very expensive.

Faiz : Why don't you go by train? It would be cheaper than the plane.

Huma : Yes, but I don't care for trains very much.

Faiz : How about the bus? That's not very expensive, either.

Huma : I'm never comfortable on a bus, and it takes such a long time.

Faiz : Well, you can do one of two things, then. Either start saving your money for the plane fare, or start walking now.

Revision of Important Sentences

- If it doesn't rain tomorrow, I think I'll go shopping.
- There's a possibility we'll go, but it all depends on the weather.
- If I have time tomorrow, I think I'll get a haircut.

LESSON NO. 46

TALKING ABOUT PAST POSSIBILITIES

A

Kiran : Don't worry about it, Tehreem. There's nothing we can do now.

Tehreem : I can't help it, Kiran. If I'd been thinking, this wouldn't have happened.

Kiran : We all make mistakes. I see no point in standing here talking about it.

Tehreem : If I hadn't gone on that trip, I wouldn't have forgotten about it.

Kiran : It's not really your fault. I didn't remember, either.

Tehreem : There's no excuse for it, Kiran. I had known about it for several weeks.

Kiran : Well, it's too late to do anything now.

Tehreem : If we had written it down on the calendar, we wouldn't have made this mistake.

Kiran : We can do that next time, but it won't help us now. Let's go home.

Tehrim : I guess you're right. Next time I buy tickets for the theater, I'll be sure to look at the date. Then we'll go on the right day instead of a day late.

Revision of Important Sentences

- What would you have done last night if you hadn't had to study?
- I would have gone on the picnic if it hadn't rained.
- If you had gotten up earlier, you would have had time for breakfast.

- If I had known you wanted to go, I would have called you.
- Had I known you didn't have a key, I wouldn't have locked the door.
- She would have gone with me, but she didn't have time.

- If I had asked for directions, I wouldn't have gotten lost.
- Even if we could have taken a vacation, we might-not have wanted to.
- Everything would have been all right if you hadn't said that.
- Looking back on it, I wish we hadn't given in so easily.

LESSON NO. 47

ASKING ABOUT LIKES AND DISLIKES

A

Waiter : May I take your order now?

Aslam : Yes, I think we're ready to order. Rehana, what would you like to have?

Rehana : I haven't made up my mind yet. You order first, Aslam.

Aslam : All right. I'll start with chicken soup. Then I want a steak, medium rare. I'll have a baked potato, Moon beans, and a tossed salad. I'll order dessert later.

Waiter : Yes, sir. And you, miss. What would you like to have?

Rehana : I can't decide. I don't see anything I really like.

Waiter : There are over thirty dishes to select from, miss.

Aslam : There ought to be something you like, Rehana.

Rehana : Well, I guess so. But I only see food that I don't like. I don't care for chicken and I can't stand fish. Do you have any oysters?

Waiter : No, miss. I'm afraid not. How about some other seafood?

Rehana : Oysters are the only seafood I like; I dislike the rest.

Aslam : I wish I could think o something for you.

Waleed : May I suggest cream of tomato soup, steak with mushroom gravy, asparagus, and buttered cauliflower. For dessert—strawberry pie with ice cream?

Rehana : No, that isn't my idea of a good meal. I'll have a hamburger. That's my favorite dish. I have it every day.

Revision of Important Sentences

LESSON NO. 48

GIVING ADVICE AND OPINIONS

A

Saqib : Shahid, would you please read this letter of application I've just written? I'd like to have your opinion.

Shahid : I'd be glad to tell you what I think.

Saqib : If you don't think it's any good, please say so. I really want to get this job.

Shahid : It looks fine to me. But I have one suggestion.

Saqib : Good! I'm interested in your advice.

Shahid : If I were you I'd change the beginning. You should write about your education first.

Saqib : Good idea, Shahid. What do you think about the Second part?

Shahid : Now that you've asked me, I think it's too short. You should include much more information about your work experience.

Saqib : You're right. I'll change it. How do you feel about the last part of the letter?

Shahid : Very good. But, unless I miss my guess, you should say something about your family, too.

Saqib : I agree. I appreciate your helping me, Shahid. Do you think the end is all right?

Shahid : Oh, yes, Saqib. But personally I believe a business letter should end with "Very truly yours". Not "sincerely".

Saqib : I guess I'd better tear up the letter and start over again.

Shahid : Oh, don't do that, Saqib! Just make the few changes I suggested, and your letter will be perfect!
